FOURTH TIME IN DOCK Echo of Murder of Mr. Max Green Two Years Ago

ARMED ROBBERY James O'Neill Before Dublin Jury Again

The murder of Mr. Max Green in St. Stephen's Green on March 3, 1922, was again recalled at the City Commission, to-day, when a charge of armed robbery was preferred against James O'Neill.

O'Neill was three times previously tried in connection with the case, the jury on each occasion disagreeing. His appearance in Court to day was, consequently, the fourth time since the shooting that he faced a jury.

The defence (as stated by the State Prosecutor) is that he was in fact at the time of his arrest assisting in the pursuit of those who actually carried out a hold-up in Moleworth street.

CASE FOR PROSECUTION Counsel Relies Two Years' Old Story

The murder of Mr. Max Green (Chairman of the Prison Board) at St. Stephen's Green in March, 1922, was again recalled today at the City Commission, before Mr. Justice Pim, when James O'Neill was for the fourth time put on trial. O'Neill was arrested on the day of the shooting, as was also Laurence Dowling, and both were alleged to have taken part in a "hold-up" in Moleworth St. some time before Mr. Max Green was shot near the gate of St. Stephen's Green facing Dawson St.

Dowling's case has already been disposed of, as he pleaded guilty of participation in the "hold-up." In the case of O'Neill the jury disagreed on three occasions.

He was now put forward again in connection with the occurrence, the charge against him being that on March 3, 1922, he, with Laurence Dowling and another person unknown, being armed with revolvers, assaulted Thomas Browner and Richard O'Donoghue, put them in fear of their lives, and carried off an attaché case containing a sum of £51 10s. the property of the Ministry of Labour.

Mr. Carrigan, K.C., and Mr. Dudley White, K.C. instructed by the Chief State Solicitor, prosecuted; and the accused was defended by Mr. P. Lynch, K.C., and Mr. Joseph O'Connor (instructed by Messrs. Gerald Byrne and Co.).

In stating the case to the jury, Mr. Carrigan said the prisoner was charged with robbery under arms.

Counsel then related the story, which has been already published on several occasions, of the arrival of the Ministry of Labour officials in a taxi in Moleworth St., having come from the bank with a large sum of money, on the morning in question.

THE HOLD-UP.
When the taxi pulled up outside the office three men appeared, two of whom, counsel said, were identified as Dowling and O'Neill, the former of whom wore a covering over part of his face, while O'Neill wore no disguise. Revolvers were produced, and the attaché case containing the money was taken from the officials and the raiders made off.

Mr. Carrigan then recounted the pursuit of the fugitives and the shooting of Mr. Max Green, when, as alleged, he attempted to stop Dowling at the gate of St. Stephen's Green. O'Neill, as captured in Dawson street, having apparently gone along St. Stephen's Green as far as the Shelbourne Hotel, and then turned back and ran along Dawson street, where he was caught and taken into custody. He was arrested at the time, but on being arrested was disarmed.

Counsel said the defence put forward was that O'Neill, with another man, was sent out on the morning of the occurrence to purchase firearms for a section of the I.R.A., and that they effected the purchase in St. Stephen's Green Park and O'Neill, having purchased two revolvers, was proceeding along the street when he heard that robbers were being pursued.

He took part in the pursuit, and was, as the defence alleged, engaged in the pursuit of the robbers when he was himself captured.

THE RECOVERY OF THE MONEY.
The witness, one of the officials who was in charge of the money that was taken, replying to Mr. Dudley White, stated that the money was taken in Moleworth Street, when the taxi was held up by the armed men. He took part in the pursuit of the robbers, and after the taxi was taken to Dawson Street, he was arrested by the I.R.A. and was held for some time.

IRISH CO-OP. Not Sufficient Trading to Pay Wages of Staff CLOSING DOWN ORDER

In the Chancery Division to-day, before the Master of the Rolls, in the matter of the Companies Act and Irish Co-operative Clothing Society, Ltd., in liquidation, Messrs. Dobson and McCoy applied on behalf of the official liquidator, Mr. Telford, for an order giving him liberty to close down the business of the company and to sell the assets for the payment of a certain number of the staff such as in his opinion might be necessary.

The order for winding up in this matter, which was frequently before the court, was made on 21st January 1924. Mr. Telford was appointed liquidator on the 21st February, and has been in possession since February 2nd and he stated that the business was in a lamentable state and that nothing could be done but to close down the business.

Master of the Rolls—Where is the business carried on?
Mr. Wilson—in Abbey St., Dublin.
In an affidavit Mr. Wilson stated that since he went into possession he had been investigating all the affairs of the company, and at the moment the company was not selling any goods.

THE WAGES OF THE STAFF.
It was of the utmost importance in the interest of the creditors and all parties concerned that the business should be closed down immediately. He had ascertained that since the appointment of the provisional liquidator there had been a considerable loss in the trading.

SHIPYARD CRISIS London Conference Called For Thursday SOUTHAMPTON TROUBLE

A development in the shipyard trouble at Southampton is expected as a result of the emergency meeting of the executives of all the unions in the Federation of Engineering and Shipbuilding Trades to be held in London on Thursday.

On inquiry in London to-day the Press Association was informed that the Shipbuilding Employers' Federation are meeting in Carlisle on Thursday and Friday, and it is expected that the Southampton situation will be considered by the full meeting of the Federation on Friday.

BOILERMAKERS' CLAIM.
No conferences has yet been arranged with the boilermakers' Society to consider the separate claims of the Society and that Union has made for a ten-shilling per week advance on behalf of their members, although the men have agreed to an early conference with employers to discuss their national wage application as their members are not on strike and have not taken constitutional action at Southampton.

THE NATIONAL NEGOTIATIONS ON THE QUESTION of an advance of ten shillings per week for the boilermakers' Society and the Southampton Shipbuilding Union were discussed by the Southampton Shipbuilding Union.

INQUIRIES AT THE LONDON OFFICES OF THE White Star Line to-day elicited the fact that the company is undergoing overhauling at Southampton, in the dock on March 19, and that no information had up to the present been received as to the cancellation of the sailing.

STRUCK BY GOLF BALL New Trial Asked For In Rathfarnham Case

The arguments concluded to-day in the Court of Appeal, before Lord Justice Ronan and Lord Justice O'Connor, who reserved judgment, in the action brought by Hubert L. Loftus, an infant, suing by Edward J. F. Holland and the Rathfarnham Golf Club, the defendants.

FARM WORKERS' WAGE Difficulty of Obtaining Reliable Information HAY MARKET AFFECTED

There is much difficulty in ascertaining reliable information as to the progress of affairs in the wages dispute between farmers and their agricultural labourers.

According to a statement issued by the Ministry of Agriculture, the conference held yesterday under its auspices, "between representatives of the I.T. and G.W.U. and the County Dublin Employers' Protection Association failed, the men having refused to agree to the proposed reductions bringing their wages down to 25s. a week in the area of 10 miles from the city, and 22s. in the remainder.

As to how these agreements and forms were received no definite information is available at the moment.

AN OFFICIAL of the County Dublin Employers' Protection Association told a representative of the Evening Herald that the county-wide agricultural labourers in the county appeared to be out to-day, and that this was indicated by the fact that there was

WIFE OF BANK MANAGER RAISES THE ALARM

This afternoon, in the Dublin Police Court, before Mr. Collins, K.C., Peter Jordan, (29), 29 St. Paul St., ex-captain National Army, and Felix McMullen (26), 34 South William Street, ex-captain National Army, were put forward on remand on a charge of having

(1) On January 28 conspired, confederated and agreed to commit an act punishable by law—to rob with arms, and did on that date enter the National Bank at Balinglass, Co. Wicklow, covered the officials with revolvers, and attempted to rob the bank.

(2) Did feloniously, wilfully, and with malice aforethought, at the same time and place, with a revolver loaded with bullets, shoot at one Maurice Wolfe with intent to kill and murder him, thereby causing him grievous bodily harm.

(3) Did feloniously, wilfully, and with malice aforethought, kill and murder one, Patk. O'Halloran, a member of the Civic Guard, at Balinglass, on same date by shooting him with a revolver.

Mr. John O'Byrne, K.C. (instructed by the Chief State Solr.), prosecuted on behalf of the State. Mr. E. H. Burns, solr., appeared for Jordan. Mr. C. J. Murray, L.L.D., appeared for McMullen.

BRAVE GUARDSMAN'S DEATH.
Dr. Kenna, Balinglass, gave evidence of attending Civic Guard O'Halloran at the Guard barracks and described the nature of the wounds. The injured man was in a weak condition, and after the doctor had treated him he was removed in the ambulance to the Curragh. The wounds were such as could have been caused by one bullet.

WITNESS ALSO ATTENDED Mr. Wolfe, the bank manager, who had been shot in the abdomen. He was still attending him for his injuries and he was progressing satisfactorily.

Dr. Coffey, surgeon in charge at the Curragh, said that Guard O'Halloran was brought to the Curragh about 5 o'clock in the evening of Jan. 28. He was in a very collapsed state and suffering from two wounds in the stomach and the other in the back. There was a good deal of haemorrhage, and an operation was performed at once. The examination disclosed that the man had been severely injured.

DEATH WAS DUE to shock and haemorrhage following a revolver wound.

Mr. Maurice Wolfe, the manager of the bank, related how he was in his office on the date of the tragedy with three other officials and a customer. Two men entered shortly before 2 o'clock, and asked for the use of a telephone, to which he replied there was no telephone, and they then sent a telegram from the Post Office.

HEARD A SHOT.
A moment later he saw the tall man take up his keys and a shot was fired. The man was wounded, and fell to the ground. At the same time he heard something go off. He shouted for help, and the tall man came forward with a revolver and said he would blow his brains out. One of the men then—he thought the little man—took him up his keys and the other man emptied his pockets of some keys. One of the men took them, and told one of the officials to open the safe with the key, and failed to do so.

HE NOW IDENTIFIED the two men in the dock as those referred to in his evidence. One of the men took away his (witness's) automatic pistol.

IN ANSWER to Mr. Murray, he said he had seen the photographs published in the "Evening Herald" and he said he could not identify either of the men from the photographs. He did not tell the police he had seen the photographs.

TO-DAY'S WINNERS AND BETTING

Hawthorn Hill, Tuesday

There was no doubt about racing at Hawthorn Hill to-day, as was the case yesterday owing to snow, and the attendance this afternoon showed a marked improvement.

Eleven were saddled for the Novices' Hurdle, but as the weather became so bad in the field it appeared futile to look elsewhere for the winner, so the fielders offered a consolation prize.

Heavy Fall of Snow Causes a Postponement

THURSDAY'S CARD ABANDONED

The Stewards inspected the course at noon to-day and decided that as there were four to five inches of snow on the course, and snow was still falling, the abundance Thursday's programme and postpone Wednesday's programme until Thursday.

10 to 1 Mr. Ben Warner's animal, usually a safe jumper, did not show the accustomed momentum, finally falling at the water. In the end it was left to Chinese Penny to take the lead at the top of the hill, an only other boy to go on with the lead. The race was won by (third) and Garrovenne of the latter to finish.

Knight of the Orient and Waltham Abbey fell at the first fence. Another Sinner was pulled up at the stand ditch, while Givert's team fell at the same place as Annam.

The Owen appeal case will be heard at Messrs. Waterbury's, said the Press Association, to-morrow morning.

Mr. T. Walls, the well-known writer, travelled down specially to saddle Fair Charlie for the Woking Hurdle, and a weight of money by some shrewd speculation, caused him to desert from his former position in the market. He, however, was in trouble before the hurdle, was reached, and a fine finish took place between Jack Hole and the other two, but the first-named proved the better stayer, and was afterwards retained for 75 gns.

Constitution II. fell half way.

W. Speck was in the first race was successful pilot, but he also rode in the second, and L. B. Rees escaped with a slight knock on the nose.

After the Woking Hurdle the stewards, led by the Hon. A. Bors-Rudven, Mr. P. E. L. Swan, and Mr. C. Pym enquired into the riding of King's Governor, and after hearing the evidence of the owner, trainer, and jockey, accepted the verdict that owing to his inexperience Mr. Rush was unable to assist the horse adequately.

Jack Anthony was specially to ride Turpin Point in the Bagshot Steeplechase, and at the start it was difficult to trade as even. He got home, but only after hard riding from the final fence, and after a half-way, and Valentine VI. was pulled up.

Jack Woodman, the Chalderton trainer, cannot do right with his horses no matter how he tries. In the Slayers' Hurdle he thought Manister Bridge would improve on his four-year-old record, but he hit his own obstacle very badly, but to his surprise Manister Bridge, who started favorite, was well beaten a mile from home, and it was left to Houshold to practically finish the race. Honier ran exceptionally well for two miles, but cannot be raced, though his clever young trainer, Earl, is hopeful for one day win.

Beckers did not know what to make of the March Handicap Chase, and no fewer than four were backed, amongst them being the old and unpopular, Pickett, the new arrival, Daisy Cutter, however, started on the same mark as Picture Hill, at 3 to 1, but there was only one in it six furlongs from home, where Charles II. did not finish. Daisy Cutter, who was backed by six lengths, with Picture Hill three lengths behind third. James Pigg ran better than on previous occasions, when he had at times been felled off early on.

ALLEGED LIBEL Mr. P. T. Daly's Action Against I.T.W.G.U.

In the Court of Appeal to-day before the Lord Chief Justice, Lord Justice Ronan, and Lord Justice O'Connor, the interlocutory appeal came on for hearing in the case of that Patrick T. Daly is plaintiff and the Irish Transport and General Workers' Union, James Larkin, Thomas Wynn, Michael Hill, Thomas Keenan, Michael McCarthy, and Thos. Ryan, trustees and officers and members of the Executive Committee of the said Union, Sean Sayers and Walker, the said Wm. O'Brien, Thos. Foran, James Larkin, and Bernard McGuire are defendants.

AS AMENDED IN COURT. The action is for libel alleged to be published in "The Voice of Labour," and the plaintiff claimed that he had been greatly prejudiced and injured in his credit and reputation, and in his office of secretary of the Dublin City Council, brought into public scandal, hatred, and contempt. The plaintiff claimed £1,000 damages, the alleged libel being contained in the following words:

What was the opinion of Connolly and Clarke with regard to Larkin's chief assistant—P. T. Daly

Whether P.T. does not think the money would have been better spent where most of his own money goes?

Mr. Justice O'Connor, who was with Mr. Keenan, instructed by Mr. Sean O'Hallighan appeared for the plaintiff, and referred to the innuendo which had been put on the words, and asked to strike out the words "I do not think the money would have been better spent where most of his own money goes."

DUBLIN ROBBERY Three Arrests Effected by Detective Division

Three arrests were made in Dublin to-day by Detective Officers Dawson, Mulvihill, and O'Connell. The first was a robbery which occurred some time between Saturday night and yesterday morning on the premises of Messrs. Becker Bros., 51, Upper Mount Street.

When the robbery was discovered yesterday morning it was found that two safes had been removed from the front office to the back portion of the premises.

Here the safes were cut open, and £500 in cash, between £200 and £500 in cash, was extracted from them.

The robbers left a full set of house-breaking tools after they had done their work in the custody of the police, who are also reported to have recovered a large amount of the missing money.

"COULD NOT KILL" NURSE CHILD Shocking Revelations at City Inquest

LEGISLATION NEEDED. Strong comments on the laxity of the laws relating to the care of nurse-children were made to-day by Dr. O. J. Murphy, Deputy City Coroner, at an inquest on a child named Ino Joseph O'Reilly, aged 12 weeks, who died in Dublin Union on the 29th ult.

The police report stated that the child was admitted to the Union on the 1st Feb. from 5 Charleville Mall, North Strand E.D. The child, according to the statement of the Lady Resident M.O., was then in a wretched condition, poor neglect and want of nourishment. It improved slightly for a few days, but relapsed, and it died from marasmus, bronchitis and cardiac failure.

Inspector O'Connell represented the D.M.P., and Mr. Scott, representing Mrs. Webb, of 24, North Strand St., the foster-mother of the child, who was recently sentenced in the Police Courts for neglecting it.

3 MONTHS' IMPRISONMENT. She had received a further sentence of 11 days for failing to register a second child in her charge. She had appealed against this sentence, and was now on bail.

Mr. Joseph Germaine, Ballingalee, said he was in his home at 220 on the date in question. Hearing from his wife that she was something up he went upstairs and got a key to her door. He then went to the door and saw the child lying on the floor. He then went to the door and saw the child lying on the floor.

Guard Delaney said he was in the yard of the barracks when he heard a shot. He went out to see what had happened and found a man carrying a child. He was wounded, but he could not see the man who fired the shot.

Long List at Trinity To-day. The Senate met in the Theatre of Trinity College to-day for the purpose of conferring degrees. The Caput consisted of the Vice-Chancellor, Lord Glenavoy, the Provost, and the Senior Master Non-Regent (Mr. E. J. O'Connell).

THE CATTLE DISEASE Attempts to Saddle Ireland With Responsibility

A prominent Dublin live stock exporter informed our representative that he was not surprised to see the attempts that were being made by disgruntled English agriculturists to saddle Irish cattle with having imported foot-and-mouth disease.
