The Opportunity!

Many reasons may and have been advanced why everyone should have a bank account to their credit. Possible opportunities stand foremost among them. It is seldom during a man's life that opportunity does not knock for admittance; it rarely occurs but once, and you will be disappointed if you are not prepared to open the door when the knock comes.

PRODUCE REVIEW OF INTEREST TO MANY

Larger receipts and lighter demand caused a sharp drop in the New York Market for live fowl. Quotations closed at 24 cents, 2 cents lower than the closing price of the previous week, and 3 cents less than price two weeks ago.

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in its report issued July 16, shows the following holdings of poultry in storage:

July 1, 1923, 49,069,000 lbs.
July 1, 1922, 34,837,000 lbs.
5-year average, 30,752,000 lbs.

The dressed poultry market was easy, in sympathy with lower quotations on live, and also influenced by the excess stocks in storage, which are above a year ago and the 5-year average.

Live broilers are in good demand for current use, but each week a larger quantity of broilers reach the marketing age, but are sold, so that price tendency is lower.

The market on eggs closed firm, and current prices have been well sustained.

There is a narrow balance between supply and demand, which is likely to cause fluctuations up or down, until the course of egg production and marketing are more clearly determined.

Butter production in total is showing up well compared to a year ago, but due to extreme heat in the country, there is a light supply of extras and markets are on a generally firmer basis. Today, the Chicago market on Standards is 38 1-2 cents as compared with 37 cents a week ago and 32 1-2 cents a year ago.

Arrivals of foreign butter in New York last week were a little lighter and reported as:

966 casks from Denmark.
350 casks from Holland.
250 casks from Estonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Sacora, of Cedar Rapids, are visiting in this city at the F. E. Moravec home.
