

KERRY NEW YORK NOTES.

By HENRY P. LANNEM.
November 19, '27.
Last July, George F. Condit, the aged paymaster of the Reid Ice Cream Company, in Newark, N.J., was held up, robbed of the pay-roll and shot to death.

This is the season for dances and entertainments, and Kerry is having quite a few. First we have the annual ball of the Kerry Football Club at Donovan's Hall, on West 59th street and Columbus Circle, on Saturday evening, Nov. 26th.

Next comes the Kenmare Social Club, which will hold its annual ball at the Imperial Lyceum on Saturday evening, Dec. 3rd, 1927. Jack O'Connell is President.

This is always a popular and well-attended Kerry affair, and those who are present have a very pleasant and enjoyable time—a real old Kerry night.

Kerry and Mayo played an exhibition draw game at Celtic Park last Sunday, Nov. 20th. While the day was exceptionally fine for this time of the year, still the tang of winter is in the air, and Celtic Park is in a rather exposed situation, so the attendance was not as large as either the day or the game merited.

Thursday, Nov. 24, will be Thanksgiving Day, and will be celebrated as a holiday throughout the United States. Dinners, dances, entertainments, oratorical fireworks will feature the day.

"MEMORIES OF KERRY."
It's many a day since I viewed the hills,
Inspiring hills of Kerry!
And I've had my share of life's joys and ills,

And at memory's call came those music lakes,
The beautiful lakes of Kerry!
And a vista of islets, deltas and brakes,

On the pebbly shores I've often strolled,
The silvery shores of Kerry!

On the pebbly shores I've often strolled,
The silvery shores of Kerry!

On the pebbly shores I've often strolled,
The silvery shores of Kerry!

NEWCASTLEWEST TOWN COMMISSIONERS

RELIEF OF UNEMPLOYMENT. APPLICATION FOR PORTION OF £150,000 GRANT.

THE WATER WORKS SCHEME.

A special meeting of the Town Commissioners was held on Monday evening, Mr. Sean Brouder, Chairman, presided, and the other members present were:—Messrs. Wm Phelan, Thos. Roche, G. McLaughlin, M. McCann, M. Lynch, T. Mullen, M. Cullane, Jas. Lenihan, D. McAuliffe, J. Clifford, with Mr. P. O'Mahony, Town Clerk.

The Chairman said that meeting had been called specially for the purpose of making an application for part of the grant of £150,000 set aside by the Dail for the relief of unemployment.

Mr. Phelan said he had been in communication with members of the County Council about the water works scheme, and he was informed that a letter had been received at last meeting from the Ministry of Industry and Commerce, intimating that the Grant would be available for water works schemes.

Mr. Michael McCann seconded the resolution. He said there was a great deal of unemployment in the town.

Mr. Jas. Lenihan said he thought there were at least 400 or 500 men idle in the town and vicinity, and many of their families were on the border of destitution.

The Chairman said there was no doubt about the trying need that existed for employment among the working classes of the district.

LADY HOUSTON DENIES COURTAULD RUMOUR.
Lady Houston denies a report that she had sold a block of 250,000 shares in Courtauld's, to cover the cheque which she handed to the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

PULSE OF THE PEOPLE NEW BURIAL GROUND.

Dear Sir,—There have been many complaints about the neglected state of graveyards in many places, but, so far, I have failed to notice any thing said about the "New Burial Ground," Tralee, which is in a shocking state of neglect.

STREET HOOLIGANS.

Dear Sir,—May I trespass on your valuable space for the purpose of calling attention to the scandalous behaviour of the youth of both sexes in the town each night.

These young braves line the foot-paths from nine until well high midnight and indulge in conduct which is positively disgraceful.

Not content with pulling and dragging each other about and indulging in language both immoral and profane, they hustle people passing along and make matters extremely unpleasant for decent people who have to be about on their legitimate business.

Might I suggest that the Guards should deem it part of their duty to deal with these Hooligans. They have ample power to have them before the courts for obstruction and for indecent behaviour on the public streets.—Yours truly, Madison Square Garden on Dec. 12, for the world's light heavyweight crown. This bout will clear up the middle which has kept this division in a turmoil since Jack Delaney voluntarily relinquished the crown.

By unanimous vote the seven Justices of the Court of Appeals of New York have refused the request of the sash-weight lovers, Judd Gray and Ruth Snyder, who were convicted some time ago of murdering Albert Snyder.

We regret to announce the death of Dan Horan, formerly of Knockrotry, Castleisland, at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Anna Daly, 313 West 54th street, N.Y. City.

On Sunday, Nov. 13, Kildare defeated Kerry by a score of 6 to 4 in an exhibition game in what, those who were present, say, was the fastest and best game of the season.

O'CONNELL AND BIDDY MORIARTY.

(From "The Freeman").

Shortly after Daniel O'Connell was called to the Bar he laid a wager that he would silence a celebrated Dublin termagant, named Biddy Moriarty.

The party adjourned to the huxter's stall, and there was the other herself superintending the sale of her small wares—a fair hanger and ragged idlers were hanging around her stall.

O'Connell was very confident of success. He had laid an ingenious plan for overcoming her, and, with all the anxiety of an ardent experimentalist, waited to put it into practice.

"What's the price of this walking-stick, Mrs. Moriarty's name?" "Moriarty, sir, is my name, and a good one it is; and what have you to say against it?"

"One-and-sixpence for a walking-stick; what's your name, you are no better than an impostor, to ask eighteenpence for what cost you twopenny?"

"Ay, impostor, and it's that I call you to your teeth," rejoined O'Connell. "Come, cut your stick, you cantankerous jackanapes!"

"Stop your jaw, you pug-nosed badger, or by this and that," cried Mrs. Moriarty. "I'll make you go quicker nor you came."

"By the hokey, if you say another word of impudence, I'll tan your dirty hide, you bastardy common scab; and sorry I'd be to spoil my fists upon your carcase."

"Jintleman! jintleman! the likes of you a jintleman! Wisha, by gor, that bangs Banagher. Why you potato-faced pippin-sneezers when did a Madagascan monkey like you cowarily smacking, pish-like-biggard!"

"Oh, not you, indeed!" retorted O'Connell; "why, I suppose you'll deny that you keep a hypotheuse in your house?"

"It's a lie for you, you b—y robber; I never had such a thing in my house, you swindling thief!"

"Why, sure all your neighbours know that you keep not only a hypotheuse but that you have two diameters locked up in your garret, and that you go out to walk with them every Smunday, you heartless old heptagon!"

"Oh, hear that, ye saints in glory! Oh! there's bad language from a fellow that wants to pass for a jintleman. May the devil fly away with you, you snigger from Munster, and make celerity, since of your rotten limbs, you nearly-mouthed tub of guts."

"Go rinse your mouth in the Liffey, you nasty tickle-pitcher; after all the bad words you speak it ought to be fitter than your face, you dirty chicken of Beekeloo!"

Overwhelmed with this torrent of language, Mrs. Moriarty was silenced. Catching up a sateepan, she was aiming at O'Connell's head, when he very prudently made a timely retreat.

BORN NEAR BALLYBUNION

DEATH OF MR. RICHARD WOULEF IN U.S.A.

OLD TIMES RECALLED.

NOTABLE PERFORMANCE OF RACEHORSE ON KERRY STRAND.

Mr. Richard Woulef, born near Ballybunion about ninety years ago, died recently near Streator, Illinois, where he was a very large farmer and breeder of horses.

Dimby was bred by William the Fourth, King of England. In the possession of Maurice Woulef, most notable performance was the winning of a challenge at the then goodly sum of one hundred pounds.

The colony of relatives who emigrated at or about the same time as deceased, included Maurice Woulef, Maurice Woulef, and five families of the name from Tennessee and Iowa.

By this time he is frightened and scarcely dare walk on the knee for fear that that wretched pain will return. Another week goes by and he walks with a stick; he manages to get back to the office, and every one he sees remarks on the stick and insists on a minute account of the trouble.

By this time he has acquired a habit of thought. In very truth there is nothing wrong with the knee; it was cured long ago, but the thought remains. The doctor says in a quiet voice that the knee is all right now and bids him good-bye, but this does not convince the patient; his thought remains.

HEALTH CHAT

A Habit Of Thought. If you are going to acquire a habit of thought, mind it is a good thought. I find that many patients are the victims of incorrect habits of thought.

There is too much drug-taking by you ladies; you think that all you have to do when you have a headache is to take a couple of tablets and all is well. You seem to take these headache tablets as though they were acid drops or some harmless sweet.

OUR AMERICAN LETTER.

By William Parkinson.

New York, Nov. 25.

All gunmen charged with killing are sure of acquittal in Chicago. In a case just disposed of the jury, obtained after a month devoted to the examination, of more than 1,000 veniremen, returned a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of a gangster who killed a member of a rival gang, although eight witnesses testified the shooting. During the trial the witnesses were notified they would be killed if they testified for the State.

The city of Buffalo, N.Y., holds the dubious honor of having yielded up the largest alcohol distilling plant ever seized in the United States. Its value is set at 2,500,000 dollars. Apparently the plant had been in operation for a long time. Five vats held 60,000 gallons of fermented molasses, from which alcohol valued at 120,000 dollars could be made.

Some women might be satisfied to spend ten dollars a year on perfume and cosmetics, but Mrs. Tillie Leopold, according to her attorney pleas in the Supreme Court here, must not be cramped within 2,500 dollars yearly for these items.

The resources in National Banks, on October 10, when a tabulation was made, aggregated $7,213,824,900 dollars, the largest amount ever reported to the Controller of the Currency.

Hunters of the Museum of Natural History here are back from Alaska with two giant black bears. One weighs 1,200 pounds, and measures 10 ft. 8 ins. when he stands on his haunches.

The reading on the barograph of Capt. H. C. Gray, on U.S. Army, who lost his life in an attempt to make an altitude record, shows that he reached a height of 42,700 feet—the highest point ever reached by man—the War Department announces.

The U.S. Shipping Board reports that nearly three-fourths of the country's sea trade was carried by alien vessels in 1926. The freight bill paid to foreign lines amounted to 480,000,000 dollars. A total of 5,761 vessels were used, while only 1,262 flew the American flag; the Board's first foreign commerce analysis shows.

phenomenon, as everything, including religion, is commercialized in this country at present. It is called that when an attempt was being made to dissuade Ruth Elger from the flight her response was "Well, I've lived a while without amounting to a plugged nickel. I want to do something that will make people notice me. If I don't, it won't make any difference anyway." Surely this showed a desire for notoriety.

Announcing that there are now 126 prisoners serving life terms in Sing Sing, Warden Lawes revealed that in a little more than the sixteen months the Baumes laws have been in effect forty-nine prisoners, out of four hundred convicted have entered the institution to serve life terms. The three prisoners are classified into three groups. There are twenty-four who were spared from the electric chair; eighteen who were sentenced as professional criminals, and 82 whose sentences were for twenty years to life. Out of 3,000 inmates in Sing Sing, the "Ques" now number nearly 8 per cent. of the prison's population.

Nearly thirty of the large life and accident insurance companies of the country have agreed to issue policies protecting airplane pilots and passengers, a move regarded as one of the most important in the history of aviation. The policies will cover "those riding on a regular air transport line on a regular schedule between established air ports in licensed aircraft in charge of licensed pilots."

limp. I think brass bands ought to be at the command of every doctor; it is a mistake for medical men to say that brass bands are not scientific. In the pathological laboratory at the hospital, and that books on Materia Medica contain no reference to trombones. I am all for coming down to the patient's mental level, and if the disturbing thought can be removed by the seventh child of a seventh child playing on the bassoon, it is the doctor's duty to supply the remedy. I, dear reader, would never allow ourselves to become the victims of a mistaken idea; with one important reserve, always. That is the thought from us by a simple motto: Many Drugs.
