SEVERAL of our contemporaries are calling loudly for subscription money, and we confess it makes the heart grow warm and tender to all mankind to have eight or ten patrons walk in together and drop the shining dollars into the container which we keep on the desk for the purpose. Even one at a time makes a little heat in the forehead.

THERE is a pretty good one on one of our Republican boys who injudiciously wagered about $100 on the election. As the band was playing and the band shouting their hoarse notes, the young man looked up at him with a sly smile and remarked "aren't you glad they're having such a jolly time with our money?" We don't dare print the reply.

The boys felt so good last Wednesday night that they had to express themselves, and so they organized a torchlight procession and with the band at their head proceeded to serenade Messrs. Lynch, Beers, Bowditch, King and Suddam. Subsequently they organized another procession led by Mr. J. M. Drees, M. Miller, Mr. Elliott and others, and yelled themselves hoarse over the returns.

THE Greenback vote in this county last year was 104. This year it is 97. The republican vote last year was 1189, this year 1183, a falling off of 26. The Democratic vote last year was 1169 and this year is 1489, an increase of 320. Probably a hundred votes were changed from the Republican to the Democratic party on account of the amendment and it is certain that a hundred Republicans failed to vote. The vote is notably more full in the Democratic township than in those which are strongly Republican.

FRIDAY night was a peculiar one for this time of the year, something like last June in the way of thunder, lightning and wind. A heavy storm came from the west, and the lightning was incessant for some hours. The wind blew a gale, and rain fell in torrents. The storm was so severe that it reached the dimensions of a cyclone, one house being blown down and an inmate, a woman, had a leg broken. The storm approached the dimensions of a cyclone, one house being blown down and an inmate, a woman, had a leg broken. RESOLVED, That as a Sunday School we deeply deplore the course of the late deceased Superintendent, that our hearts go out in sympathy to him and his family in their bereavement, and we pray the God in His infinite mercy will comfort and sustain them in their time of need.

M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL, Carroll.

public will not be too ready to jump at conclusions based upon reports which from the very nature of the case are likely to be incorrect. In a time like this when a sorrow beyond the power of words to express or of imagination to conceive, sympathy the most tender and profound will go out to them from every heart in this community.

District Court. District Court commenced its sessions Monday. Up to the present writing little business of public interest has been transacted. In five cases brought here on change of venue from Council Bluffs the defendants withdrew the pleas of not guilty and entered a plea of guilty. They were charged with selling liquor contrary to law. The case of Parker, charged with the murder of a boy, which is familiar to our readers is on for trial. The attorneys for the defendant Parker are attempting to have him discharged on the plea that he has been once in jeopardy. It will be remembered that at a previous term a jury was impaneled and the trial commenced. After one or more witnesses had been examined it was discovered that through some error the evidence of certain witnesses essential to the prosecution could not be used. The trial was then continued and now it is claimed that as the defendant has once been in jeopardy he cannot be tried again. As we write the law points are being argued to the judge. The state is represented by District Attorney Conner and Senator Russell. The defense by Mr. Stivers of Toledo and Major Thompson of Linn.

The Grand Jury is said to be considering the case of Fay for the murder of Thomas Maher. It is not known whether the case will reach for trial during the present term. The facts on this case are that the Parker case should be tried it would doubtless occupy most of the time. We have heard it intimated that in case the Judge should overrule the motion of the defendant's attorney that a change of venue would be taken. In that event if Fay desired a trial at this term he could probably be accommodated.

LATER - Since the above was in type Judge Reed has ordered the motion of the defendants attorneys to discharge Parker and the trial of the case has commenced. It was expected a change of venue would be taken but this has not been done. The trial will occupy several days.

What Shall We Do With Our Boys? There is no use denying that Carroll holds a very tough lot of boys. THE HERALD has probably intimated something of the kind several times, but there has always been occasion for it. And it seems to us that there are several lads in town well started on the penitentiary road. We are reminded of this by the following facts:

A few young people were spending the evening at John W. King's residence last Thursday. Half a dozen boys, who were not invited to the party, went to the house and began first to make all the noise possible. From their pockets they threw sand, gravel and stones against the windows. This proceeding was a little too much, and some of the boys inside went out and asked them to stop. The reply was a torrent of oaths and foul language. Finally the young ruffians tore pickets off the fence and actually began clubbing the boys who came out. Some of them got as good as they gave, and it is a fact a number of the pickets were very bloody when the affair was over.

We have the names of these boys because of the kind parents' hearts which would ache at Mr. King's decision to file no information and to say nothing. We presume it is best for us to "once more," just this time, "keep their names back." But it is bad business, very bad.

There is no politics in this sermon. But the other evening when the men were having their jolly time before the election and marching around with the band, how many boys, 12 to 16 years old, were in the crowd? And how many were doing some of the sort in Carroll, which is often, how many boys are right on hand in the midst of it all? We have many a time seen dozens of them, the boys, who have the best of party go home. Last Wednesday evening the rejoicing was carried on in a saloon for two hours. Fully a dozen lads of the name were there, and they stood around in the dense crowd, breathing the atmosphere of whisky and tobacco, hearing men swear and talk big, saw men drink and laugh and appear to enjoy themselves. The proprietor ordered every boy cleared out, which was done, but it will always done. How many of the nation we could see in their restless movements and excited looks. They were likely to look on some loud-talking loafer with a cigar and a glass of beer as a hero, and envied his liberty. Young lads are so easily impressed and so ready to follow.

Ideas from the actions of older people! And this is common in Carroll. Almost every night a big crowd of boys are on our streets. Every affair like a political construction or a "burrall" includes a call at a saloon, and your boy goes with the crowd every time. No wonder that the police are so busy and lawless enough to storm private residences and club the inmates. We have been in many ways, seen some tough lads, but nowhere have we met a lot of boys who could swear as hard or use as filthy language as can a good number of boys here.

We have done. The evil, if there is any, at least the preventive, is to keep the boys off the streets, and know they are at home nights. It is the safe way, and in Carroll, the only safe way.

Where is Brachendorf? Nothing has yet been heard here of the young man who was reported to have mysteriously disappeared some four weeks ago, and his relatives have heard nothing. There is something very peculiar about this case, and we are last person to see him on the night of his disappearance is George Reusch, the southern neighbor of the young man, who lives with a cigar and a glass of beer as a hero, and envied his liberty. Young lads are so easily impressed and so ready to follow.

THE BIGGEST STOCK OF HOLIDAY GOODS IN WESTERN IOWA IS NOT OPEN.

There is no gallowing rush about selecting holiday goods, or thinking about them, so long as the biggest stock in this part of Iowa is not yet opened. It will be displayed as soon as Mr. Hatton gets around to it, and will be something to make you stare a little. There is one little doll on exhibition there now, that got away from the rest. It is such a dainty little miss, only four and a half feet high, that you ought to take the children to see it. There are dolls that play tunes, and thousands upon thousands of other things for the children. However we will know all about it in a few days.

There is a new stock of school books and school supplies generally at Hatton's, including new links, new pencils, etc. And speaking of writing materials reminds us that one of those beautiful sets of gold pens, pencils and charms ever brought here.
