PACIFIC SLOPE.

HUNTING HIGHWAYMAN.

Detectives Think They Know the Guilty Party.

Murderer of Overmeyer May Soon Be in Custody.

Holding Hanged in Portland—Sheriff's Awaited Confield—Chinese Minister Busy.

UKIAH, March 27.—Events in connection with the recent attempted hold-up in Mendocino county are suddenly assuming a new turn. It is now the theory of the detectives that the highwayman had an accomplice.

A hint was given that one of the escaped prisoners who was known to be broke turned up after the robbery a month ago, with several hundred dollars, and that he purchased a new rifle. This same party was riding toward the half-way house yesterday morning, and was accosted by the stage driver. He made an excuse to borrow a cigarette, but when the driver mentioned the murder he became so nervous he could not roll it, and finally turned abruptly and rode away. The detectives are acquainted with the man, and have been watching him for some time.

NEXT LINK IN CABLE.

WORK WILL SOON BEGIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27.—The first step in the work preliminary to the laying of the cable between Honolulu and Midway Island was taken today. The Pacific Commercial Cable Company has chartered the steamer Grace Dollar, and on April 10, she will depart from this port, carrying supplies and material for the construction of the cable station on Midway Island. She will also have on board a number of carpenters and engineers, and the work of building the station will be commenced immediately upon her arrival. The line from Honolulu to Midway will be the second link of the cable which is to connect the United States with the Philippines. The British steamers Anglia and Colonia are at present in London, being loaded with the cable.

MILLS MAY CLOSE DOWN.

OVERSUPPLY OF SHINGLES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, March 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Whether to remain running at full blast, or close down indefinitely, is a question confronting the owners of 150 shingle mills in Western Washington. It was expected that today's meeting of the Shingle Manufacturers' Shingle Manufacturers' Association would result in an order for a universal shut-down. Instead, some of the largest of the mills represented, gave notice that they would not close down.

It was shown that the shingle market is in process of collapsing, owing to immense overproduction, and modern demand. Several thousand carloads of shingles are on the tracks in transit, or stored in Minneapolis. Prices of store have been cut from the association price of $1.75 to $1.40. Further cuts in prices are probable. In view of these facts, it was decided to hold another meeting next Saturday, and in the mean time send a circular to all the mills, with an urgent request for an expression of opinion on the shutting-down proposition.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

He was charged with having seduced Sanborn's daughter. When Sanborn asked Sheppard to marry his daughter, it is said Sheppard replied that he had another, saying, "I will fix you, too." Sanborn was too speedy for him, and drawing his gun, shot Sheppard through the head. Sanborn gave himself up to the authorities.

BELDING HANGED.

COMMITTED TRIPLE MURDER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 27.—A. L. Belding was hanged in the County Jail this morning for the murder of his wife and two children, and he died in seventeen minutes after the trap fell. Hereafter all executions will take place in the State Penitentiary, the last Legislature having passed a law to that effect.

Belding murdered his wife, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lemuel McCroskey, and Frank Woodward, who were known as "Opie," on the evening of July 31, the killing being due to the jealousy of Belding toward Woodward, whose attentions to Mrs. Belding he resented. Belding also shot his father-in-law, Lemuel McCroskey, but failed to kill him. After he had, as he supposed, succeeded in dispatching the entire household, the murderer fled to the mountains, but was captured, carried back to have a dinner, and then locked for an officer. Belding never attempted to deny the killing.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SACRAMENTO, March 27.—The [illegible] recalling for the appointment of a Horticultural Commissioner, to succeed the former incumbent, Ellwood Cooper, who filed that position for many years, held his commission from the old board of horticulture which also has been legislated out of existence. It is expected that Gov. Pardee will name Mr. Cooper for the assistantship. It is expected he would be reappointed to have Ellwood Cooper of Santa Barbara who was for many years president of the old board, accept the position, but it is not known that Cooper will do so. If Cooper declines the position, it is expected that E. J. Wickson, head of the horticultural department of the State University, will be offered the place.

STEEL TRUST ARTICLES AMEND NEW CHARTER.

NAME OF COMBINE CHANGED TO CARNEGIE STEEL COMPANY.

New and Important Provision Whereby the Registered Agent May Refuse Permission to Inspect the List of Stockholders—Interesting Feature of an Assembly Bill.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

TRENTON (N. J.) March 27.—Counsel for the United States Steel Corporation today filed in the office of the Secretary of State articles amending the charter of the National Steel Company, which were filed yesterday for the purpose of merging the Carnegie, the National Steel and the American Steel Hoop companies. The amended articles change the name from the National Steel Company to the Carnegie Steel Company. The papers are the same as those filed yesterday, with a single important exception. In connection with the provision that there shall be maintained at all times a registered agent in this State to whom all of the stockholders of the various companies, except bearer stockholders, there is an added provision, as follows:

"But registered agent may refuse permission to any person to look at or take notes as to the entries affecting the shares owned by such stockholder, unless satisfied that such examination and the information to be acquired is not for a purpose hostile to the interests of the corporation as a body of its stockholders, and the determination of the registered agent shall be final and conclusive."

This provision follows the lines of a similar one rendered in the case of O'Hara against the Standard Oil Company. O'Hara had been denied the right to inspect the list of stockholders of the company, and sued out a writ of mandamus against the registered agent. The court held that the refusal was proper.

This provision is also interesting in view of Assembly Bill No. 126, which passed the House this week. That bill provides that no suit can be brought by minority stockholders in the name of a corporation without the written consent of one-third of the stockholders. Under the provisions of the amended charter filed today by the Carnegie Steel Company, it is very difficult for any stockholder to secure the necessary 51 per cent of the stock of the concern the managers are willing to grant his petition. The National Steel Company is to hold the stock in trust for the United States Steel Corporation, $28,985 shares.

"CARNEGIE" A STICKER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PITTSBURGH, March 27.—In the new merger, it was claimed here, there appeared to be evidence that the name of Carnegie would be obliterated from the business of the United States Steel Corporation. Such is not the case, however, as the name, however, shows that while the Carnegie Steel Company is merged with the others, the National Steel Company, under its new form, becomes a subsidiary company of the Carnegie Company.
