ODELL MAN MAY LOSE ARM FROM AUTO MISHAP

William Fortner Is Rushed to Chicago Following Accident.

John Blase, of St. Louis, was believed dying at St. James' hospital in Pontiac this afternoon, the result of one of three week-end auto crashes which occurred on route 66 near Pontiac, leaving a toll of four injured.

Other crash victims were E. B. Zahn, 160? Broadway, St. Louis, a companion of Blase's; William Fortner, Odell, whose left arm was shattered, and Mrs. George Regenold, Graymont, who received minor cuts and bruises.

Crash Sunday Morning.

Blase, driver of the car in which he and Zahn were riding, was said to be traveling at a high rate of speed when he hit the rear of a car driven by Louis Martinez, of Indiana Harbor, Ind., at 7:30 a. m., Sunday, two miles north of Chenoa. His car jumped a ditch and stopped in a field after turning over many times, highway police said.

Blase was thrown through the windshield, and was picked up 75 feet from the car, according to a report given his wife, Beatrice. Zahn's injuries were less serious and he was able to return to his home yesterday.

Other than he collided with a livestock truck. Few details are known of the Fortner accident, which occurred one mile north of Odell between two and three a. m. today. Fortner, who is employed as a crane operator at a Wilmington strip mine, had completed his shift and was returning home when the accident occurred.

He was rushed to St. James' hospital for treatment of his injury, described as a compound fracture of the left arm. In an attempt to avoid amputation, he was sent immediately to the Mercy hospital, Chicago, by ambulance.

Suffers Minor Cuts.

Mrs. Regenold received minor cuts and bruises at 11:15 Saturday night when the car in which she was riding struck the rear of a car driven by George Dronenberg, Odell. Mr. Regenold, who was driving the car, and their daughter, Joyce, were uninjured.

According to their report, Dronenberg drove onto route 66 from the Orchard Nook, just south of Pontiac, and they were unable to stop in time to avoid hitting him.

Right of Protest is Given Citizens Under State Law

Under the new Illinois law governing the appointment of election officials, a list of the officials must be published after the appointments are made, and any person ay file objections with the county judge.

The county judge shall then conduct a hearing on the objections, and if he finds an officials unfit for service, must remove him and appoint someone else to fill the vacancy.

An explanation of this phase of the law was made today by George A. Hunter, county clerk.

The county board of supervisors will make its first appointments under the law at the September meeting, when 270 clerks who will serve at the November election are named. The law provides that the election judges appointed throughout Illinois by the boards of supervisors in June must serve for the coming year, but that starting in 1937, both election judges and clerks must be appointed in June.

After their appointment is made by the county board members, a list must be sent to the county judge, who can either confirm the appointments and issue commissions for the officials, or can reject the app intments.

A list of the officials must be published after the appointments are confirmed by the county judge.

The new law also provides that the county clerk shall notify the officials by letter of their appointments. The old law provided for the sheriff making personal service, and collecting legal mileage for the notification. Hunter said the notification by letter would save the county about $900 annually.

JOHN W. MAHER FORMER LOCAL MAN SUMMONED

Prominent Citizen of Devils Lake, N. D., Dies Off Panama Coast.

Word of the death of John W. Maher, 84, of Devils Lake, North Dakota, which occurred at sea, off the Isthmus of Panama, Thursday, July 29, was received by local relatives of the aged man. Mr. Maher was born in Eagle township, west of Streator, and was a brother of the late Mrs. Richard Wolfe of this city. He leaves two brothers, Ed Maher, formerly of this city, now of Chicago, and Jerry Maher of Millet, Texas. He is an uncle of Mrs. Albert Purcell, Anthony, Bart and John Solon, Miss Evelyn Wolfe, and Mrs. Mary Prendergast, all of this city.

It is thought funeral services will be held in Devils Lake about August 10.

The Devils Lake News, under date of July 29, carried the following account of the death of this prominent man:

"John W. Maher, 84, one of the earliest settlers of the Lake Region, lawyer, horticulturist, world traveler and former public official, died at sea off the Isthmus of Panama Thursday at 9 o'clock a. m.

He passed away peacefully aboard the United Fruit Passenger Liner, Talamonca, two days out of Balboa en route to San Francisco, a radiogram from the ship's captain, to his son, Howard Maher, stated.

Funeral arrangements have not been made as the ship carrying the remains is not scheduled to dock until August 5 at San Francisco. From there the body will be brought to Devils Lake for burial.

Born in Illinois.

Born in Streator, Illinois December 18, 1852, the son of Bartholomew and Margaret (Wolfe) Maher, Mr. Maher attended school and was graduated from Streator high school. He attended the University of Michigan from which he graduated in 1880 with a bachelor of law degree. He was admitted to the bar in Michigan that same year.

In 1881 in company with a brother, he drove from Streator to Grand Forks, where in partnership with Judge George Walsh, he practiced law until the Spring of 1883 at which time he came to Devils Lake to practice law. His specialty in those days was filing of claims and final proofs. The territory from Grand Forks north to Canada and west to Churchs Ferry was being opened for settlement by the U. S. Land Office and he made filings and final proofs for a great many of the settlers who were pouring into this section at that time. He was active in the law practice until about 1905.

Establishes Loan Business.

In the early eighties, he established a farm loan business and furnished a great amount of capital for farm and city development through the Lake Region.

From 1890 to 1894, he actively owned and managed the Devils Lake News, a thriving newspaper of that time. In 1907, he established the Devils Lake nursery and was one of the active organizers of the Twin City Life Insurance company and the Farmers Railway. He was also district attorney of Towner county and treasurer of Ramsey county more than half a century ago.

In 1884, he married Sadie C. Coleman of Ann Arbor, Michigan. She died February 27, 1923. There are two sons, Howard of Devils Lake, and J. Wallace of Minneapolis and three daughters, Mrs. Clinton Smith, Mrs. M. J. Cowley of Devils Lake and Mrs. J. Stuart Robertson of Long Island, New York.

Member of Rotary.

Mr. Maher was an enthusiastic member of the International Rotary club. Whenever he traveled, at home or abroad, he always made his attendance. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus and the Elks and having devoted much of his time to horticulture, was a life member of the Iowa, Minnesota, South and North Dakota Horticultural Societies.

His later years were spent largely in travel. He made nine trips to Europe, Africa and the Holy Land, visited every state in the Union and every province in Canada and travelled extensively in and around South America. He was making a tour of the Pacific ocean when he passed away.

Mr. Maher was always active and intensely interested in the growth and progress of North Dakota. His main interest and investments were in land, securities and improvements within the state. In all his journeys and travels throughout the world he often expressed that North Dakota was as good as any in the Union and expressed the faith that in days to come it would be more prosperous and productive than in days past. He lived a useful and particularly active and successful life. Death came to him as he had often wished—at sea."

RED CROWN'S phenomenal mileage almost won me a wife,
...confides Caspar Klaspar

Caspar explains: "I was in a marrying mood, so I got a widow-woman in my car and told her I wouldn't stop driving until she agreed to marry me. She figured I'd have to stop sum'ers for gas. But I had a full gallon of Red Crown in my tank. We started in Indiana and was still going in Kansas when she give in and said she'd marry me. But the mood was gone. I'm as whimsical as Red Crown is long winded."

To Caspar Klaspar we express: (1) gratitude for introducing love interest into the subject of gasoline; (2) absolute disbelief in his story.

Standard Red Crown is as "long winded," we believe, as any gasoline you can buy. It is quite possible that it gives extra mileage per gallon but Caspar's story stretches the truth further than you can stretch a tankful of gasoline, even Standard Red Crown.

To end all inaccuracies and misconceptions about gasoline mileage, the World's Greatest Road Test continues, with many hundreds of thousands of midwest motorists getting the bedrock facts.
